Qualitative feedback

What topic/issue has been the most important for you?

- Campfire; cutting off; ANEC
- Autonomous interaction; all the exercises including continuum, card work etc; revisiting focal conflict model; cutting off and dyad work
- All has been relevant. Learning the difference between groups that are counselling and those that are psychoeducational; understanding learning gained from experiential experiences; respectful cutting off; being present and my effect on the group members – self-disclosure can be very useful.
- Understanding the SHIFT and being creative to identifying what skills/ tools to use with confidence
- Focal conflict model; ANEC
- Skills and psychodynamic group work – (cutting off, campfire, triads, continuum); valuing the moment; ANEC and key dimensions; owning and leadership skills

What topic/ issue has been the least important for you?

- Not really, all of it was relevant; even the exercises I got stuck on
- None, much has been gained from this experience
- Nil

What impact will this training have on your work?

- More aware as a group facilitator; integrate more creativity into group activities; I will have a more easy blend of therapeutic and educational group work
- Great impact, it will have very much change in the way in work; more creativity and focused; less fearful and more confident
- Very big impact! I imagine I will lead groups with more focus and sensitivity to group dynamics.
- A renewed vigour for facilitating groups
- This will expand the way I operate. Valuing clients for their knowledge and trusting the process more.
- It has given me added confidence and meaning to running groups; it has given me direction and skills to work on to enhance future group work

Any other comments about the training course

- Really excellent, well done; really enjoyed all the other people in the group
- Excellent workshop, a lot of learning in two days so very satisfied. I enjoyed hearing from other members too
- Thankyou for your generosity of sharing your wealth of experience and knowledge
- Thanks for sharing your knowledge and energy with us all. It is always a great pleasure to work with you.
- A big thankyou to the trainer. The workshop has been very comprehensive, informative and fun.
